information sharing networking and leadership opportunity
The American Probation and Parole Association (APPA) was born in Louisville, KY in 1975. APPA is an international association composed of members from the United States, Canada and other countries actively involved with probation, parole and community-based corrections, in both adult and juvenile sectors. All levels of government including federal, state/provincial, local and tribal are counted among its constituents. By taking the initiative, APPA has grown to become the voice for thousands of probation and parole practitioners including line staff, supervisors, pretrial and administrators. Educators, researchers, policy makers, volunteers and concerned citizens with an interest in criminal and juvenile justice are also among APPA’s members. APPA represents a strong, unified voice for the field of community corrections.

our vision

We see a fair, just and safe society where community partnerships are restoring hope by embracing a balance of prevention, intervention and advocacy.

our mission

To serve, challenge and empower our members and constituents by:

- educating, communicating and training;
- advocating and influencing; acting as a resource and conduit for information, ideas and support;
- developing standards and models; and
- collaborating with other disciplines.

our story

Training Institutes
APPA conducts Annual and Winter Training Institutes each year bringing the best and brightest researchers and practitioners to present on current issues involving community corrections. Annual Institutes typically present over 70 workshops along with several intensive workshops of either 4 or 8 hours in length. The Winter Institutes feature over 40 workshops. Attendees may earn training contact hour credits to fulfill continuing education requirements at all APPA trainings. Members of APPA receive discounted rates for all training.

Specialized Trainings
APPA’s Specialized Training Program offers affordable training on many topics. Partnerships with the National Curriculum and Training Institute (NCTI), the Community Corrections Institute (CCI) and the Center for Strengths-Based Strategies allow APPA to bring nationally known trainers to agencies while providing member agencies the ability to negotiate for the best rates. APPA brings this training directly to your locale—no travel is necessary!

Online Trainings
Through a partnership with Essential Learning, APPA members receive discounts on hundreds of online courses. These come at already low costs and the added discount makes them affordable for anyone. Many of these courses are also accredited through APPA with more coming online soon.

Project-Based Trainings
These training opportunities are created through the many federally funded grants received by APPA. With face-to-face and online courses, technical assistance opportunities and published guidelines, APPA offers the field of community corrections the most up to date research on numerous topics relevant to issues faced by today’s community corrections professionals.

Leadership Institute
APPA’s Leadership Institute offers those who are nominated by their supervisor the opportunity to develop real leadership skills to help them achieve greater heights in their career.

“Being an APPA member has provided me the opportunity to network with community correction professionals around the country on a level I would never have been able to otherwise.”

Linda Jones, Case Officer
Madison Co. Community Corrections, TN

“What I appreciate most about my APPA membership is the ability to contribute to a national agenda for probation and parole, consistent training, sharing research articles and policy positions. As well as learning what is going on nationally, interacting with peers and availability of publications and resources.”
