

A Force for Positive
CHANGE™
American Probation and Parole Association

In response to current Bureau of Justice Assistance “Smart Suite” program solicitations that directly impact community corrections, Smart Supervision and Smart Reentry, APPA is currently seeking partnerships with probation and parole agencies to serve as a research partner.

APPA staff have expertise across several topics of interest, such as:

- Validation of risk/needs assessment processes
- Officer-probationer/parolee relationships and outcomes
- Workloads of supervision officers
- Partnerships between probation/parole and law enforcement
- Models of graduated responses in supervision
- Supervision practices of specialized or unique populations (serious mental health issues, illegal immigrants, etc.)

Agencies are welcome to submit other topics of interest as well.

Please contact me directly at nlowe@csg.org or 859-244-8057 to inquire about this opportunity.

PLEASE RESPOND BY FEBRUARY 10

Many thanks,

Nathan Lowe, Ph.D.
APPA Program Director of Grants & Research
